

Dear School of Music Community,

We have become aware of three potential COVID-19 exposures: in a Music General Education class, in the Wind Ensemble and Marching Band, and in the Jazz Ensemble. Students in these courses have all been alerted to the potential exposures, already.

While no students in the class or the ensembles seem to have had close contact with the individuals during class/rehearsal meetings, we have been advised—out of an abundance of caution—that the class and the ensembles should not meet in person while the contact tracing team completes its investigation. Class and ensemble participants have not been advised to quarantine.

The classroom/rehearsal spaces have been thoroughly cleaned.

We should all remain vigilant with masking, distancing, and monitoring oneself for symptoms.

Thank you,

Miguel Chuaqui, PhD
Director, School of Music
University of Utah
music.utah.edu
801-581-6765