

Dear School of Music student,

Welcome Back! School of Music faculty and staff are looking forward to the Fall 2020 semester. Our first and foremost concern is your safety. Our second priority is to provide an outstanding education in music that provides an effective path to graduation. We have crafted a student-centered plan that maximizes performance opportunities, while observing best practices in the use of masks, social distancing, hand-washing, and room ventilation.

This link leads directly to a useful COVID-19 checklist for all University of Utah students:

<https://coronavirus.utah.edu/checklists/#student-checklist>

Please read the information at all the links in the checklist and complete the required Online Training (please click on the last button at the end of the checklist to go to the training).

Please also read our School of Music Return-to-Campus webpage

<https://music.utah.edu/news/returntocampus.php>, which includes important Music-specific information.

Looking forward to making and studying music together,

Miguel Chuaqui, Ph.D.

Professor

Director, School of Music

University of Utah

801-585-6975

music.utah.edu